

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Saturday Morning, August 18.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier... $10.00 per Year

OFFICE: 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

Republican County Convention.

The republicans of Pottawattamie county will meet in delegate convention at the court house in Council Bluffs, Thursday, September 13, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The primaries in each township, unless otherwise ordered by the township committee, will be held Monday, September 10, at 7 p. m.

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's fall goods. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's. Colonel Daley's child is quite ill.

The street-car track on lower Broadway is now being raised.

There were 282 who dined at the Pacific house on circus day.

The funeral of the little child of John R. Strayer was held yesterday.

The Tremont house on Broadway is being elevated to conform with the new fill of the street.

The funeral of Mr. R. A. Bryant was held yesterday afternoon from the residence of J. G. Tipton.

Officer Morse yesterday arrested a man giving his name as Ed. Smith, charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The case of J. R. Davidson vs. Milton Tootle was yesterday transferred from the circuit court to the United States circuit court.

Burglars went through the postoffice at Corley, Tuesday night last, and got four or five dollars and all the stamps, the amount of which is not known.

About fifty from here and Omaha started last evening on the Sioux City route for Spirit Lake to have a merry season of rest and recreation.

Rev. A. K. Bates, of Lima, N. Y., will preach in the Presbyterian church to-morrow at 10:30 a. m. and 8 o'clock p. m. Sabbath school at 12 m.

The bay horse, "Garfield," who is well known among the turf men of this part of the country, has been sold by J. A. Hake, some Omaha gentleman being the purchaser.

The case against Stephen Dunn, for renting a house to Mrs. S. J. Brown, who is gaining an unenviable reputation of late, is to be heard to-day by Judge Aylesworth.

Chief Field yesterday filed information against Chris. Straub and a man named Hare for driving across the hose while it was being used to put out the fire on Harrison street.

The officers and managers of the coming fair and races are sparing neither money nor time to make it fairly boom. It cannot help but be the event in that line in the whole west this fall.

At Sears' lunch rooms, near the North-west depot, on circus day, there were 103 pies and over 350 sandwiches sold at retail to the crowd. It made in rather lively for Mr. Sears, with his other business.

Spiritual circle to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon and evening, rooms Nos. 4 and 5, Shuggart & McMahon's block, at 2 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock. Incontestable evidence of immortality given from spirit friends.

H. Horgens, who was recently bitten so badly by Jake Rogers' watch-dog, is now getting along quite comfortably, and is getting his new oyster parlors well fitted up, opposite the new opera house, on Broadway.

Joseph Reiter became annoyed yesterday by the outcries of one Thomas Bowman, not the mayor, but a tailor, who was bothering about Mr. Reiter's merchant tailoring establishment. He had Bowman arrested, and a hearing is set for to-day.

Lyander Sweat, a well-to-do farmer, while attending the circus at Harlem had his pocket picked of $400, the money being taken from his pants pocket while he was passing through a dense crowd going to the tent. He will now probably use the banks, or swear off going to circuses.

In the circuit court yesterday, the case of C. Rasmussen vs. the Chicago & Rock Island road came to a sudden end, so far as that court is concerned. After the evidence for the plaintiff was introduced, the defense moved that the court direct the jury to bring in a verdict in favor of the defendant, and the motion was sustained.

The Bloomer school building was yesterday heated by steam. This was not, however, on account of the undue chilliness of August weather, but to test the apparatus which has just been thoroughly overhauled and put in shape by John R. Martin, the artist in that line, whose place of business is next to THE BEE office.

J. W. Nason hitched his horse and buggy near the Tremont house Thursday night while he went into the circus. On coming out he found the rig gone. Yesterday Officer Morse found the buggy near the transfer, in a sort of ditch, near where the teams go to the ferry cars for crossing the river. The horse and harness were gone, however.

Rev. G. G. Perkins on Sunday last handed in his resignation to the Congregational church of this place, of which he has been pastor for some time. He also handed in some pretty hard blows to the church, which were certainly unlooked for from a meek and lowly follower. Mr. Perkins is no doubt too spirited for a preacher of the gospel. His resignation is to take effect between now and the 1st of September. [Avoca Herald.]

A piece of the iron flooring of the jail is on exhibition at J. M. Phillips' store, showing how thin it is and how easily it can be broken through. This last jail break revives the question of building a new county jail. It was voted down last fall, but if the county intends to keep prisoners at all, it is evident something must be done. Supervisor Phillips expressed himself yesterday as being in favor of calling a special meeting of the board, so that the question could be properly laid before the voters again this fall.

Jailer Schontz was yesterday showing to the curious questioners about the jail-break a sample of the iron used for the floors of the cells, and through which the break was made. It was seen how long and was more too thick to start with, while the rust has eaten nearly through it. The other floors are doubtless in a like condition, and the jail is therefore incapable of holding prisoners who are found to get out. The only preventive of escape is constant vigilance on the part of officers, and this is not always sure.

A young man named Londaberry, who has suffered greatly of late from injuries received three years ago, had his leg amputated yesterday by Dr. Bellinger. The injuries were caused by falling from a ladder while cleaning out a cistern, the knee being badly hurt. Since then there has been a constant enlargement of the joint, and contraction of the muscles and tendons. The young man is a laborer, and dependent on his own exertions for a living, and of late he has been confined to his bed and suffering so intensely that the only show for his life seemed to be the taking off of the limb. Although in a greatly reduced condition he survived the operation, but there is some doubt, naturally, as to the final result, though it is hoped he will pull through.

Our readers will remember the "Alick one," Rochelle, formerly owned by Mayor Ledwich, which went to Denver. Mr. Ledwich having heard that she had been ruined for the track, desired to get her for a brood mare. He wrote to the present owner, and received the following answer: "Not for sale; she won a race last week in 2:34, and can trot one-half mile in 1:10; she is going to be fast." It will also be remembered that Rochelle is a half sister to Mr. P. B. Hunt's three-year-old stallion Avenger, who is liable to make people think he is a trotter, also to his four-year-old mare Sparta, dam of Durang. Chief. All these excellent Shelby county stallions are out of Mr. Hunt's former old brood mare Temple Abdallah, acknowledged to have been the best trotting bred mare the state of Iowa ever produced, being the dam of Badger; record, 2:29; trial, 2:20; and grand dam of Gypsy Boy, 2:29; and who can speed a quarter mile in 30 seconds. Blood will tell. [Harlan Tribune.]

J. W. Rodefer having been elected secretary and treasurer of the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improvement company of Council Bluffs, has accepted the position and assumed the management of the company's business. The following named persons are on the board of directors: T. A. Kirkland, G. S. Loeffler, J. W. Rodefer, I. A. Miller, E. L. Shugart, T. A. Kirkland, President.

THE SHOW AFTER THE SHOW.

The Results of Circus Day in Police Circles and Other Items From the Stars.

As usual after a circus day there were numerous cases yesterday morning for police court to dispose of. Among these was a woman, rather a well-dressed good looking one, too, who had to answer to the charge of being drunk. She was arrested by officers Leonard and Mullen, who found her in a beastly state. She admitted that she had been drinking some, gave her name as Mammie Hansen, and got Stella Long to go security for the payment of the $8 assessed against her. "Jack, the painter," gave his real name as Cull yesterday morning, and was fined $3 and cost for being drunk. He left his watch as security, and walked forth.

Pat Harrigan, a farmer who had been dead drunk and interred in the calaboose over night, and was fined a like amount, but had spent all his money and could not pay. He promised to send it in.

Ed. Broderick, a doubly blind man—blind in the eyes and blind drunk—was arrested circus day by Officer Barhyte. He had no money to pay his fine, and was sentenced to thirty days in Des Moines, promising to go there at once, without any other accompanying him. Thomas Gregg, a burley fellow, a hanger-on to the circus, and who had a lively street fight with another fellow named Hauser, at the corner of Broadway and Main street, was fined $5 and costs. However, he was fined $5 and costs.

Michael Kildon and Thomas J. Moran kicked up a muss in the rear of a saloon yesterday morning. Moran is the man who runs one of the numerous street stands on circus day, and the other fellow hails from the country. Chairs were the weapons used, in which Michael Kildon got the worst of it, he getting one wound on the cheek and the other on his back. He followed the man of "Japanese nerve-tester" reputation several blocks, and collared him again at the Main street office, when Officer Mullen stepped in and arrested both. They were each fined $5 and costs.

Corn Cobs for sale. Address, L. B. Cousins, box 109, city.

Held for Trial. The man Murphy, arrested for stealing clothing at Forman's store, had his preliminary examination before Justice Abbott yesterday. He was identified as one of the two men who were in the store looking at goods, just before the pile of coats were thrown out of the window, and besides the evidence that he had an opportunity to do the stealing, it was shown that when arrested he had on a coat which resembled closely one of Mr. Forman's stock. The prisoner claimed that he got his coat on a trade, and he denied that he had anything to do with the robbery; but the justice deemed the evidence against him sufficient to bind him over to the grand jury, being fined at $800, but not given. Murphy is one of the eight prisoners who broke jail on Thursday, but was recaptured yesterday. He will now have until next December to work out again.

E. J. Davis having moved from Pearl street, can now be found at 109 South Main street, where she has a fine stock of fancy goods and notions.

ONLY HALF DROWNED.

The Attempt of a German Girl to Get Rid of Life.

A young German girl named Catherine Schlapkohl attempted suicide at Avoca, but failed on account of a scarcity of the water supply. She came from Germany about a year ago, and for some time past has been employed in the family of Geo. Pahl. On the morning of her attempted suicide she arose about 4 o'clock and made every preparation to do the washing for the family. When Mr. Pahl arose some time later he found that the fire in the kitchen stove was nearly out, and the girl not to be seen. After hunting for some time, and inquiring of the neighbors, she was found in the cistern, where she was standing in water up to her waist. She was helped out and cared for, but would say nothing about the matter except that she had fallen in. She had been very despondent for about six weeks, and it is reported that on a former time she attempted to kill herself by cutting her throat. These facts, taken together with her strange reticence about the affair, and the further fact that she had no necessity for going near the cistern, there being a pump inside the kitchen, and a cover over the top of the cistern, lead to the belief that she really tried to commit suicide while temporarily insane. She is now being cared for at Mr. Hans Wieses, a few miles from Avoca.

Dr. West, dentist, 14 Pearl street.

Burning a Barn.

Yesterday forenoon about 8 o'clock fire was discovered in the barn belonging to Joe Miller, who lives on Benton street, and whose barn is at the rear of his property and faces on Harrison street. The alarm was given to Rescue engine company by somebody who dashed down to the house on horseback. That steamer had to cross the creek above the Methodist church, and then back to the cistern at Madison street, and hose was laid from there back across the creek again to the fire, a long stretch indeed. The other steamer also responded promptly, but another delay was caused by the bursting of the hose, so that the fire had much advantage, and ruined the building and much of the contents. Some agricultural implements were removed and a little corn. In the upper part of the barn was a quantity of baled hay and this made a hot fire. The cause of the fire is not known, but as there are many traps who have been sleeping about in barns in that vicinity, the blame is laid off onto them.
